A Grand Champion

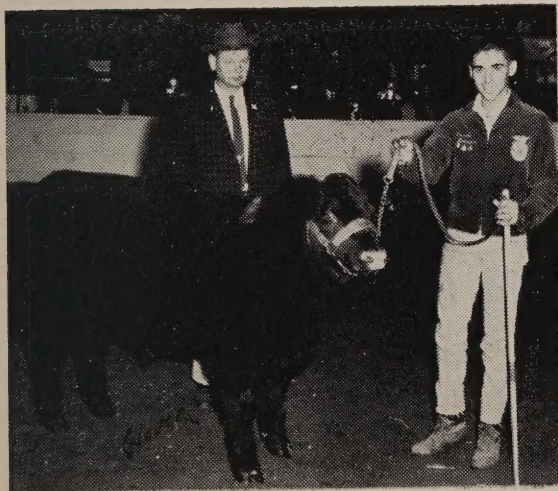

Grandview Ramsden Lady by Custodian's Successor. Junior and grand champion female at the Oklahoma and Tulsa State Fairs, 1964, for Grandview Ranch. Mervin Deason at the halter.

CHAMPION PRODUCING BLOODLINES

The herds making up this quality sale offering . . . O. H. Deason, Jack Deason & Sons, and Bart Rayburn . . . have an enviable reputation for producing championships at important shows and sales.

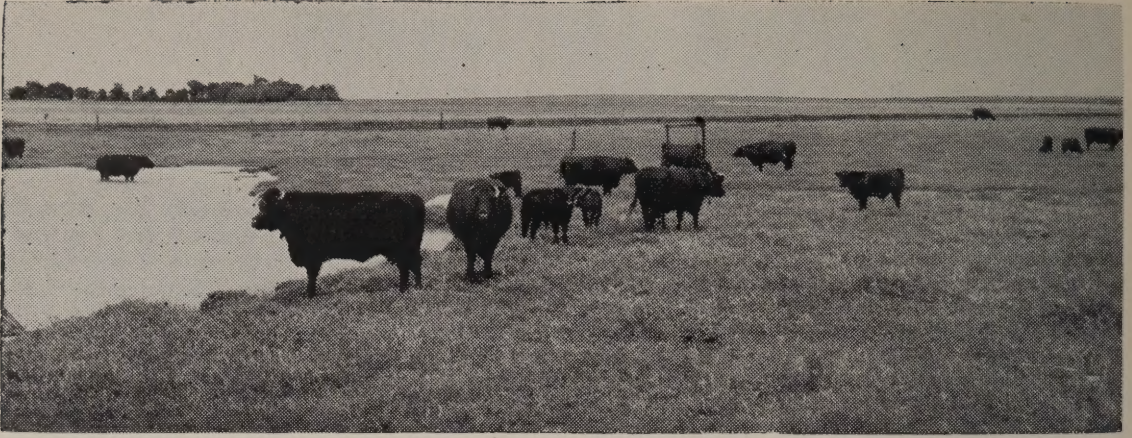

It is not surprising. Both the Deasons and Rayburn have traveled widely seeking the best herd sires available and both have infused enriching blood through female purchases.

This initial sale will contain winners from this year's show herd and some highly valued brood cows. This is a sale that you can't afford to miss.

A Grand Champion

David Deason holds his grand champion steer over all breeds in the FFA Division of the 1964 American Royal. By Melbourne Clarion. Deasons also had the reserve champion female and winning three females in the junior show at Kansas City.

A few of the good cows in the Deason herd. These are typical of the quality selling in this sale.

LIFETIME OF SHORTHORNS

By KENNETH HOLLOWAY, Snyder, Okla.
(Reprinted from the Oklahoma Cowman)

Fellow farmers and ranchers were not surprised to hear that Jack Deason, Fort Cobb, was recently elected to the American Shorthorn Association board of directors.

Deason, named "Mr. Livestock of Oklahoma" at the 1964 Tulsa State Fair, raises registered Shorthorn cattle on his diversified farm and ranch in Caddo county in southwestern Oklahoma.

The rancher, 41, is a firm believer that a person, whatever his abilities and accomplishments, should do what he likes to do and do it well, and Deason likes farming and ranching.

His philosophy goes back to his youth when he decided to pursue a career in agriculture. So do his many accomplishments.

His father, O. H. Deason, came to Caddo County from Arkansas after World War I, settling in the flats now known as the old Foster community. The old Foster school, where Jack attended grade school, still stands near the Deason home.

During those early years, livestock for the most part were grade cows, "with a lot of Shorthorn in them for Dad always used registered Shorthorn bulls," Jack explained. The move to registered Shorthorns came in 1933, when Jack was 10 and in his first year of 4-H Club work. Four registered Shorthorn heifers were bought to start the club projects.

Deason's outstanding work and leadership in FFA led him to become the youngest man ever to win the State Master Farmer award. He achieved this goal when he was 16. His continued endeavors in FFA were highlighted when he was named Star Farmer of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri.

Following graduation from Fort Cobb high school in 1940, Deason attended Oklahoma A. and M. college, majoring in agronomy. After two years he married and returned home to engage with his father, O. H., in his farming operations. This father-son partnership has grown into what is now widely known as Grandview Ranch.

His philosophy goes back to his youth when he decided to pursue a career in agriculture. So do his many accomplishments.

His father, O. H. Deason, came to Caddo County from Arkansas after World War I, settling in the flats now known as the old Foster community. The old Foster school, where Jack attended grade school, still stands near the Deason home.

During those early years, livestock for the most part were grade cows, "with a lot of Shorthorn in them for Dad always used registered Shorthorn bulls," Jack explained. The move to registered Shorthorns came in 1933, when Jack was 10 and in his first year of 4-H Club work. Four registered Shorthorn heifers were bought to start the club projects.

Deason's outstanding work and leadership in FFA led him to become the youngest man ever to win the State Master Farmer award. He achieved this goal when he was 16. His continued endeavors in FFA were highlighted when he was named Star Farmer of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri.

Following graduation from Fort Cobb high school in 1940, Deason attended Oklahoma A. and M. college, majoring in agronomy. After two years he married and returned home to engage with his father, O. H., in his farming operations. This father-son partnership has grown into what is now widely known as Grandview Ranch.

He used his own experience and knowledge, coupled with that gained at Oklahoma A. and M., to teach agriculture to veterans of World War II. He taught veterans at Binger from 1946-48.

During this transition period Deason had remained conscious of improving his Shorthorns.

His success was evident in 1947, when Claude Milwee of Fort Cobb showed the grand champion steer at the International Livestock Show in Chicago. The steer, named "Big Boy" was bred in the Deason herd and was sired by a Mercury Aspiration bull. This was an unusual feat for a herd that had been established only 10 years.

Jack and his wife, Maye, have three children: Mervin 21, David 16, and Jackie 11. Each member of the family has become well known in livestock circles throughout the nation.

Mervin, a senior at Oklahoma State University majoring in animal science, served as president of the Oklahoma Junior Shorthorn Club in 1964.

David exhibited a Deason-bred steer to the grand championship in the FFA show at the American Royal Livestock Show in 1964.

Mrs. Deason and daughter, Jackie, have been active in the Shorthorn Lassies and Jackie has begun to exhibit in the state shows.

Deason and his father maintain 200 head of registered Shorthorns on a partnership basis. Jack farms some 500 acres of small grain, milo, alfalfa, cotton, and peanuts. Their farm and ranch contains 1300 acres with Jack crop-renting the farm land from his father.

The use of two irrigation wells with a total capacity of 800 gallons per minute adds a great deal to the productivity of the farm's cash crops.

In addition to farming and breeding Shorthorns, Deason exhibited a string of cattle from 1948 to 1952.

He and his son Mervin resumed showing last fall. They exhibited six blues at the Oklahoma State Fair and nine blues at the Tulsa State Fair as well as the grand champion female at both shows. They won more purples and blues at these Oklahoma shows than any other exhibitor.

Deason is not only a breeder of good cattle but knows good cattle when he sees them. He judged the Shorthorn show at the Houston Fat Stock Show and the Shorthorn show at the Kansas State Fair in September.

Deason's success has come from no small amount of work. To him, a successful man is one who has a goal, works hard to achieve it and then sets another even higher goal.

Below are a few of the good Deason bulls. The horned bulls sell in this sale. The polled bull is Oakwood Kinsman x.

ASHBOURNE SILVER EMBLEM. By the $20,000 Louada Regalia. This bull has sired numerous show and sale champions for the Deasons and Rayburn. He is represented in this sale with 8 sons, 10 daughters and 18 cows have his calves at side, or are bred to him.

GRANDVIEW SILVER BELLE — This is our spring yearling show heifer. She is a wonderfully good-headed heifer and very deep bodied. We think she will have many friends sale day. Bred to Grandview Regalia, Sept. 20.

SHORTHORNS PAY!

Ray Holder, Harrisonville, Mo., can tell you what good Shorthorns are worth. Ray raises cattle of another breed but two years ago he mated a Shorthorn bull to 20 of his cows and another bull, the same breed as the cows, to the other half of his herd.

Nineteen crossbred calves resulted. These were developed the same way and on the same feed as his straightbreds. At the end of eight months, when sold, the crossbreds averaged 189 lbs. a head more and sold at the same price as his straightbreds. The heifers sold for $20.00 per cwt. and the steers for $23.00. With a little arithmetic it is easy to figure that the Shorthorn bull added $43.47 to the value of every steer calf raised and $37.80 to each heifer. If 10 of these 19 crossbreds were steers and nine heifers, the added return from using a Shorthorn bull was $774.90 on just one calf crop of 19 head that were marketed on last spring's "down" market.

If you want greater beef profits, turn to Shorthorns.

GRANDVIEW QUEEN ETHEL — A real nice junior heifer calf by Ashbourne Silver Emblem. Would make a real nice show heifer. Sells open.

The next 16 females are consigned by Bart Rayburn of Bradley, Okla. Bart and the Deasons co-own their herd sires. The Rayburn herd is one of the quality operations in Oklahoma. Calves produced have consistently placed high in junior steer and heifer shows and breeding stock has topped Oklahoma state sales. You'll like this offering, too.

WINIFRED 33rd C — This heifer lost her calf in early summer but has been remated to Ashbourne Ocean Wave. From the Winifred family at Oklahoma State University.

WHY USE SHORTHORN BULLS ?

John Catron, Camp Crook, South Dakota, turned a Shorthorn, a Polled Hereford, and an Angus bull with 120 cows. One hundred calves resulted. Catron did not guess — he weighed the calves.

THE BOX SCORE

Sire	No. Calves	Av. Weaning Weight	Total Pounds
Shorthorn	47	330 lbs.	15,510
Hereford	34	306 lbs.	10,404
Angus	24	313 lbs.	7,512

John Catron, just like you, Mr. Cattleman, was interested in production of total pounds of quality meat. That's why he now is convinced of the advantage and reliability of Shorthorns. You, too, can harvest this kind of a crop by using Shorthorns.

Standard Guarantee

OF AMERICAN SHORTHORN BREEDING ASSOCIATION

1. Proper care must be given by purchaser to protect breeding qualities and health of guaranteed animals.
2. All bulls are guaranteed breeders, provided they are not allowed to serve when under 14 months of age, or allowed to run with the herd when under 20 months of age. In case of failure of a bull to be a breeder, notice shall be given to the seller within six months of date of purchase, or by the time the bull is 20 months of age, if purchased under 14 months of age.
3. With the exception of heifers sold under 14 months of age, all females are guaranteed breeders. Heifers under two years of age shall not be served by a heavy or old bull. Cows or heifers sold as bred, or safe in calf, not proving to be in calf must be reported to the seller within three months after date of sale. Females over 14 months of age sold open, not settling within six months after date of sale, shall be promptly reported to the seller. Cows with calves at foot even though bred are not given any guarantee.
4. When an animal fails to comply with the above guarantee the seller has the option of substituting an animal of equal value to the satisfaction of the purchaser, or of having the animal returned for a trial for a period not to exceed six months. The expense of freight in such case is to be paid by the seller. If the animal is then proved to be a breeder beyond doubt it shall be returned to the purchaser at his expense. In case of dispute the return of the full purchase price, without interest, to the buyer will be considered full settlement and satisfaction of all claims. No charge for feed or maintenance shall be made by either buyer or seller. Salvage shall go to the seller. It shall be understood that the same guarantee given for the first animal shall likewise apply to any other animal later substituted.
5. All animals are sold to comply with the laws regulating tuberculosis and Bang's disease of the state or country into which they may be shipped.
6. Certificates of registry and transfer will be furnished with each animal sold. A signed pedigree application for unborn calves should be furnished with bred females, showing names and record numbers of sire and dam, as well as service date.
7. Shipment will be made as soon as possible after the close of the sale, but at purchaser's risk of loss or injury after animals are bid off.
